DECLARES LAW IS INEFFECTUAL

In the district court Wednesday afternoon Judge Langan rendered a decision in the appealed case of Charles Sasso, fined and sentenced in the justice court for discharging a firearm in a public place, to which he entered a plea of guilty. The court held that the ordinance under which Sasso was fined and sentenced is in direct conflict with a state law covering the same ground, and quoted authorities showing that in such case the statute takes precedence. It was the opinion of the court that the ordinance is invalid, and so declared it, and an order was made discharging Sasso from custody, and relieving his bondsmen from further liability. District Attorney Noel asked for ten days in which to file a bill of exceptions to the decision, which was granted.

The court held that under the ordinance, anyone, even an officer of the law, in the discharge of his duties, is prohibited from firing a pistol in the street, and it further took away from a person the right of self-defense.

Absolutely no exception was made to the rule.

Sasso, it will be remembered, engaged in some kind of a controversy with a fellow countryman, in which the revolver was discharged on North C. street. He was arrested under the city ordinance, pleaded guilty, fined $500 and sentenced to six months in the county jail, the limit under the ordinance. It now appears that he should have been prosecuted under the state statute governing this offense, the latter rendering the ordinance inoperative.—Virginia Chronicle.

PUT ONE OVER

RECEIVES INTEREST ON DE-POSIT MADE FOR METER.

A precedent established by D. H. Hartson, a local attorney, will be welcomed by hundreds of Reno people who have been forced by the Reno Power, Light and Water company to post a deposit of $5 before they could get a meter installed in their homes. D. H. Hartson says that this week when he went to the electric light company's office to pay his light bill he demanded a discount of 35 cents for interest on his five dollars deposited with the company over a year ago. He says that the company's clerk objected considerably and declared that it would not be paid, but that finally they told him to bring in his bill and that the amount would be deducted.

He charged 7 per cent on his money, in the hands of the company, and declares that had the company not paid it willingly he would have sued for his interest, costs and attorneys fees.—Reno Gazette.

SELECTION OF JURORS PROVES TO BE VERY TEDIOUS MATTER

The trial of Edward Carney, who is charged with a violation of the anti-gambling law, has been at a standstill, while subpoenas have been served on a new venire of 69 names drawn from the box last evening, and returned at 7 o'clock. A night session was held until after 10 o'clock, when the remaining jurors of the first venire were examined by the attorneys. There are now 10 men in the jury box, selected from 75 names, but these are subject to peremptory challenge. The selection of the jury is a tedious matter, and there seems to be some question whether or not the efforts to do so will be successful.—Virginia Chronicle.
